

“Now in glorious black and white!” set by Māyā

Across

- 1 Book and film vanished, and article? Make the clock go! (4,4,3,4)
 8 Chewing over teetotal magicians (11)
 10 Russian flower held back by Danny La Rue (4)
 11 Snap back: "without a raised edge?" (4)
 12 Oblique type of thing one strokes with the tongue, say (7)
 14 I smoke bomb a Northerner (6)
 15 Listen to direction in which to make last journey (6)
 16 Where you could watch "Treasure Island", perhaps? (3,6,6)
 17 Fruit lose nothing to mountains (6)
 19 Hence musical instrument dissolved matter (6)
 20 Heroic about agreement to not return home (4,3)
 21 Possesses old-fashioned headgear to hide head (4)
 23 Discovered naked rake in... (4)
 24 ... rut - question usage of compression bandages (11)
 25 Stars taking turns to shine - point to film extract, chant throwaway lines? (9,6)

Down

- 1 Clues go cryptic with short abrupt take on origin of Dick Whittington (15)
 2 Dead rising, and others (2,2)
 3 Completely where Dorothy's lunch was? (2,4)
 4 Mark's character is Spooner's volatile Chuck, dear, no? (11,4)
 5 Film director taking English describes a sophisticated device (2-4)
 6 Tiddly follower makes a subtle allusion (4)
 7 Wilder work in mind, yet change ringer going west (6,9)
 8 Vietnamese flower forms necks to hook, say, the King of Comedy (4,7)
 9 Film maker clue: "eggs, or a soup?" (6,5)
 12 Drinks tippie in raised house with one shared wall (7)
 13 Bird to speak admiringly in capital (3,4)
 18 Rears bird aboard ship (6)
 19 Assistant editor raising Scots brew for residential area (6)
 22 Leading history of people in Native American tribe (4)
 23 School characters in "A Slip of the Tongue" (4)